“The program was simply amazing as the small-class teaching style provided us with a great communication environment with our professors. It incorporated lectures on legal theory, IP law, European law, international trade law, as well as many others. In addition to the knowledgeable professors providing an overview of the common law system, CBL International comprehensively fulfilled the program with a visit to the Royal High Courts of Justice in London. There we had the experience of a lifetime by attending a trial as the audience in the Oxford Local Court.

It wasn't just all about studying and learning though as the Oxford Summer Program also integrated a tour to Cambridge, which was absolutely great fun! I was very proud of myself for getting second prize at a foosball competition with my friend.

Thank you so much for the great experience CBL International and Oriel College!”

"I liked the courses arranged by CBL International. Through communicating with other participants, I found that most were aiming at engaging themselves in business circles. Therefore, courses such as business law, WTO legal system, competition law and the like are very useful. These courses opened a new window to know the foreign legal system from a different viewpoint.

The CBL International team arranged professors from different fields and different places including prestigious professors from Oxford and Cambridge, elite lawyers, and also EU judges and arbitrators. While each professor had their own style of teaching, the lectures truly broadened my horizons. These were the nicest, most easy-going professors that were very patient to give me satisfying answers to questions I had after each course. Their spirit of humility is worth learning, especially for us young people.

I have acquired knowledge and skill sets through the program which has broadened my horizons greatly. I will never forget this experience."

Before I took part in the CBL International summer program in Oxford in 2011, I never thought I would change my mind to spend my next few years studying in the UK. As you can imagine, I love studying and living in Oxford!! In this program we have lectures on subjects like Legal theory, IP law, European law, international trade law, as well as many other courses. Small-class teaching made us easier to communicate with our professors. During the days in Oxford, the knowledgeable professors provided us an overview on the common law system, and some activities which is organized by CBL International gave us comprehensive prospective about our law. For instance, we had a chance to visit the Royal High Courts of Justice in London and to attend the trial as audience in the Oxford Local Court with my group partners. In addition, I want to mention other interesting activities we had, such as punting at Oxford river, tour to Cambridge. The one made me proud the most was I won the second prize of the table football match with my friend!! At last, accommodation is really good! We lived in the Oriel College so that we can easily talk with their students and have breakfast with professors!! Thanks for the CBL International and Oriel College!!

CBL International Oxford Summer Institute at Oriel College 2011

In August 2011, participants from School of Economics and Management, Tongji University attended Oxford Summer Institute, organized by CBL International and Oriel College. The program was a very well-organized workshop, focusing on international economics and management. It lasted 4 weeks, combined with several lectures delivered by Oxford professors and visits to Cambridge and London. The lectures have been a great experience in terms of having the opportunity to learn about UK business culture and society.

Oxford University is the oldest university in the English-speaking world. It is also regarded as one of the world's leading academic institutions. It was great experience for us to live, study and have meals at Oriel College of Oxford. We can trace the university's roots back to the end of the 12th century from its lordly architecture. The facility in dormitory, lecture venues and dinner room was excellent. Our hosts at Oriel and CBL International team have been fantastic, and have really helped to make the visit enjoyable and interesting.

We will encourage more SEM-Tongji students to join the programme next year. With its international flair, excellent lectures and fantastic academic atmosphere, there is no better place for learning than Oxford!
