

Stonehenge

The ancient rocks of Stonehenge are a World Heritage Site and iconic UK tourist attraction. Built over 4,000 years ago, you can explore how and why these mysterious stones came to be here.

Eden Project

The Eden Project in Cornwall is one of the UK's top tourist attractions. Its world famous biomes host plants from around the world, each dome representing a different climate. There is also a thought provoking environmental education zone, regular music concerts and a thriving arts scene.

Bath

Since Roman times, people have visited Bath to take to its healing waters. Today, you can still swim in these restorative waters at the Thermae Bath Spa. There are plenty of other things to do though in this vibrant city, with its plentiful shops, cafes and museums.
