ASIA PACIFIC WEEK

ROADS LESS TRAVELLED

29 JUNE - 3 JULY

The Australian National University's Asia Pacific Week is an interdisciplinary, student-run conference aimed at high-achieving and highly motivated students from around the world with an interest in Asia and the Pacific.

Now in its fifth year, the 2015 conference will continue the tradition of bringing together students, policymakers and senior officials of the highest calibre for a week of stimulating discussion and debate.

The theme of Asia Pacific Week 2015 is "Roads Less Travelled". The conference will throw new light on issues and puzzles that conventional study of the region has struggled to answer.

Aiding delegates will be ANU's unrivalled expertise in the study of the region and the outstanding resources available in Australia's capital.

Applications open:
2-27 March 2015
