ASIA PACIFIC WEEK 23-26 JUNE 2014

> Applications open 10 March 2014

Asia and the Pacific's remarkable rise and economic development means that it is set to make its mark on the world. But is the world ready for a world shaped by the Asia-Pacific?

Asia Pacific Week 2014 aims to explore the theme of 'GlobaliseAsian' and will examine significant and controversial issues facing the region through interactive and challenging sessions.

The conference will give delegates the opportunity to experience The Australian National University's expertise in the study of the Asia-Pacific and network with the next generation of Asia Pacific specialists.
